UP THE MIDDLE. Don Mohney lies here . . . on his back and with the ball . . . and the score against Oil City grew another six points. It was Warren's second score in the 32-14 rout of the visitors.

GOOD COVERING . . . Letrent stayed behind this Oil City receiver and nipped the intended pass before the visitor could fold it in.

OIL CITY SCORES . . . Gonzales goes well into the air to gather in Harrington's pass in the second quarter of the home-coming game, Saturday. Letrent made the mistake of moving up on this one and his desperate leap is not enough to cover the man who has got too far behind him. But Warren won, 32 to 14.

INCOMPLETE A collection of Warren and Oil City players went after this Oiler pass which would have been a score if caught. The next play they passed in the opposite direction and it worked, as you can see in another picture.

$15,776 Pay Boost For Warren Employees

Warren borough councilmen Monday night went on record as favoring pay raises for borough employees totaling $15,776. This applies only to the present number of policemen, firemen, and employees of other departments and does not include the cost of additional help which probably will be added, and could mean a salary cost increase of over $40,000.

The raises increase the police chief from $400 a month to $420. First lieutenant (a new post), $350; second lieutenant, from $290 to $340; sergeant (new post), $320; patrolman, increased from $280 to $300; new patrolman after six months, $260 to $280; new patrolman first six months, from $230 to $250; police clerk, $170 to $190.

This means that a starting police officer in Warren borough will be paid $250 a month. If two policemen are added, as some are advocating, the total increase actually will be $670 a month, due to the filling of the sergeant and first lieutenant posts. These two posts alone will change the $15,776 increase to an added total of $23,816.

Present salaries and new ones for the fire department read: Chief, $330 to $360; assistant chief (new post), $320; captain, $295 to $315; junior captain (new post), $310; mechanic, $295 to $310; assistant mechanic (new post), $285; driver, $273 to $285; hoseman, $255 to $270; hoseman second six months, $240 to $255, and new hoseman, $225 to $240.

Under this schedule a starting fireman will be paid $240 a month, and three new salaries are included, which will mean an additional thousand dollars more even if no new men are added. New men will be added, we suspect, and we believe the increase actually will be another $7,000, bringing that pay increase up to the $30,000 neighborhood.

The $15,776 increase also includes the following pay scales: Street department, superintendent, $380, up ten; mechanic and equipment operator, $1.50 an hour; semi-skilled, $1.35, and laborer, $1.30. Park department, superintendent, $370, fifteen increase; labor, $1.30 to $1.35 an hour.

Hourly rates in both departments were increased five cents.

Other raises included were a boost from $260 to $270 for the health officer, an increase from $285 to $300 for the bookkeeper, $210 to $225 for the clerk stenographer, five cents an hour for the engineer assistants.

The borough manager's salary was increased from $4,800 to $5,400. He also receives $600 for secretary expenses and $400 car allowance.

The borough solicitor will be paid $2,700, three hundred more than his present salary.

Council approved new regulations for the fire department following many amendments. New ranks proposed were assistant chief, senior captain, junior captain, and assistant mechanic. Councilman Carbon asked what would happen to the present captains under this set-up, and it was decided to continue them as captains and to create only the rank of junior captain at this level.

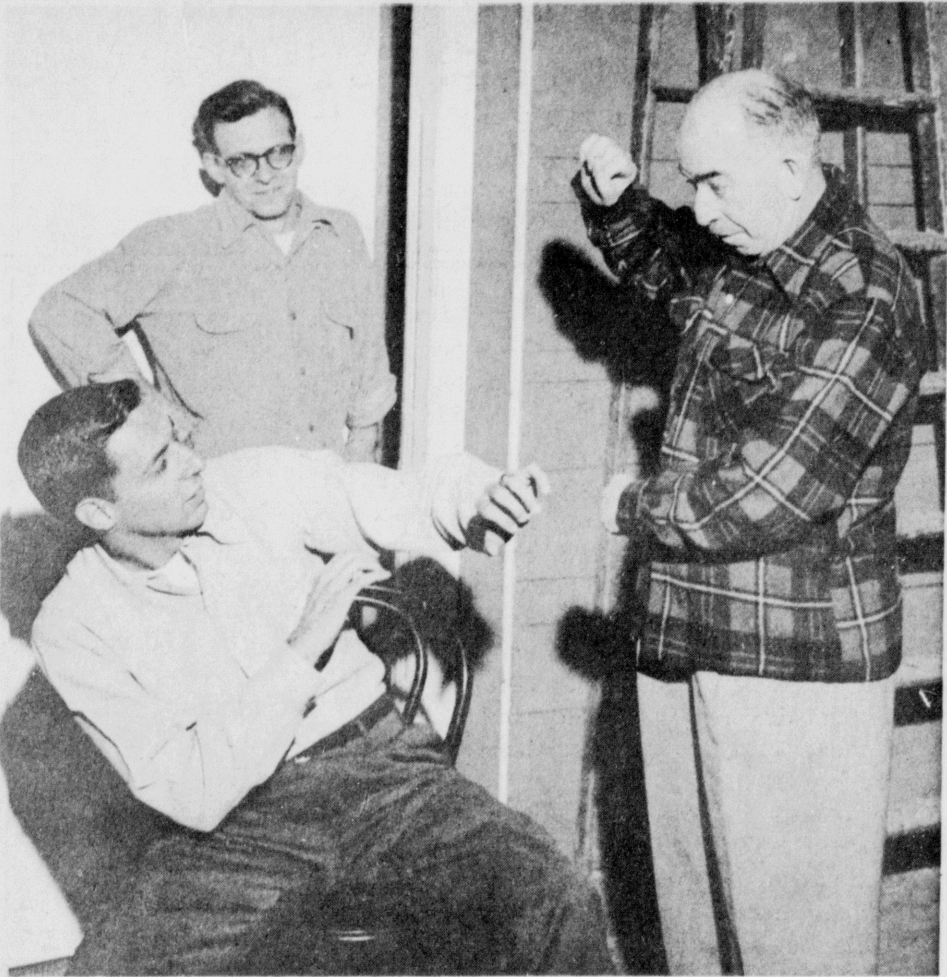

Council named R. W. Steber and E. T. Lundahl to fill vacancies on the Warren borough parking authority left by the resignation of W. C. Fuellhart and H. B. Pettit. Other members are C. T. Berdine, Jake Levinson, and R. E. Johnson.

Councilman Carbon argued for a higher hourly rate for borough employees, claiming capable men would be difficult to obtain when present men left, and pointing out that these men must work 48 to 50 hours a week to earn what industry pays for 40. He also reminded council that the street and park employees do not get paid when the weather is bad. However, the previously prepared wages were approved as proposed.

Council discussed the addition of men to the various departments but reached no conclusion. Further discussion on the budget no doubt will take place Monday when the regular meeting is held.

And after the many increases are added to the total the big one will be taken up . . . what tax will be used to provide it?

THE NEW FREEDOM

There is one type of news coverage which is progressing so rapidly that a major portion of our citizens do not realize its influence on the press. We are referring to photography, with which the progressive papers today can tell their stories much more effectively.

However, the continuous battle to protect our freedom of the press finds this forward wall meeting strong opposition in some quarters and there are those who no longer use a quill pen but seemingly believe that cameramen still are flashing powder in the faces of their subjects.

This may be enlarging the print a degree or two, but it is obvious that we have among us many who do not realize what can be done with a truly modern camera by an informed shutterman. The blame for this lies partly on those who still are shooting flash bulbs in situations where they do not belong, and the reluctance on the part of many reporters to use the latest developments for fear they will not be able to adjust.

The debate which has pointed up the clamp on news cameras is the rulings by many judges who will not let pictures be taken of court scenes. The pictures themselves are not as important as the spirit of the rulings, which obviously are a hinderance to modern reporting.

The basis for most of these rulings is Canon 35 of the lawyers' code which prohibits courtroom photography. However, Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr. has suggested that it is the duty of the bar association to re-examine Canon 35, which has been adopted by fourteen states, approved by ten others, and has been embodied in the rules of all federal courts.

But, as Mr. Brownell points out, the canon was written in 1935, twenty years ago when cameras were a blast of light and obtrusively clumsy affairs. Today's silent camera, with its fast film, is another matter.

Last August the American Bar Association made a test run at a special session of its annual convention, with three jurists presiding, including Judge Herbert F. Goodrich of the U. S. Court of Appeals, who said he was old fashioned and didn't believe in court photography. After the test he admitted that the photography had been very smoothly done, was distracting a bit, but "so is a pretty girl." Many lawyers in the courtroom didn't know pictures were being taken.

This is a major step toward freedom for the lensmen of the trade, but they have a responsibility of their own if they are to convince all jurists. The use of modern equipment is a way of quietly doing a job in sensitive situations such as court cases, but the behavior of the men who use it also is related to the reluctance of many judges, and the sensationalism practiced by too many papers today will have to be changed if the press is to win and justify this right.

A neighboring city paper was scanned by us recently at the time of the Geneva meeting. Except for a small article on that major event, the rest of the front page had nothing on it but criminal cases, sex stories, and fatal tragedies, many of which did not happen in this section but were so filled with gore and sensuality that they would sell papers. A mother of that town told us that she was hiding the front part of the paper before her son got home every day. It was worse than the comic books.

This type of journalism is not necessary to sell papers, as has been proved by some of our leading publications. But there is no doubt that it is one way of appealing to many readers, and as long as we have publishers who will utilize the worse side of people to make themselves a buck, you can't blame jurists for eyeing many of the reporters with a shade of distrust.

This is newspaper week and an appropriate time for the press to do a little more than toot its own horn. It would do better if it scrutinized itself.

THE WEEKLY SIDE

We are proud to be one of the eight thousand weeklies still doing business in our country despite the competition of TV, radio, and daily papers. We often wonder if the weekly is the last bulwark of ethical, conscientious journalism.

We know this is not completely true because there are national magazines and prominent dailies which are doing a good job of maintaining a top level code. But the better weeklies are providing a type of news coverage that does not play up the sensational, and their grass roots commentary is not as strongly influenced by big advertising accounts as is the case with larger contemporaries.

This side of the weekly paper often has caused us to puzzle over the refusal of many local merchants to support the very backbone of their own future. The small merchant is dependent on a true free enterprise, and if there is a mouthpiece against the bigs it is the weekly. When they are gobbled up, look out!

It beehoves the local merchant to support his weekly, and in the majority of cases he will get full return for his money. When it comes to reaching the readers of an area, it is difficult to beat the local weekly which is read by nearly every family, and is handled throughout the week. Few ads in such a paper escape the buyer's eye.

In our case we know that no medium, daily or radio, can begin to touch our circulation in such communities as Sheffield, Tidioute, and Youngsville. Typical is the advertiser who recently asked us to leave his ad out of all papers except one. Asked why he made such a strange request we were told that he was getting so many calls from the rural areas that he couldn't handle the business!

Free press and free enterprise are closely related, and the weekly has much to offer, not only as a champion of ethical journalism and a voice for freedom, but also as a dollar well spent if you want to use it to tell your story to potential customers.

GET IN SHAPE

Last week we suggested that hunters should do a bit of pre-season scouting to assure themselves of game when the shooting days arrive. The Pennsylvania Game Commission has a couple other angles. One is the conditioning of the hunter for his day-long hunting jaunts. By starting now with short hikes he not only will be familiar with the territory but he also will be in shape for longer ones when the real hunting work starts.

There also is the hope that over-exertion and heart strain can be avoided among those who have done very little physical exercise since last season. Like the dog that must be run throughout the year to keep him in shape, the hunter also can not expect to do a real job of it if he is not in condition. And for the sake of his family it is well that he keep himself sufficiently fit to assure that he walks home from the day afield.

And the weapon you use also may need more than an oiling job. How long is it since you bought that gun? Perhaps it would be a wise idea to have a gunsmith look it over. Such a step is far cheaper than having it go bad in your hands. And now is the time to act. Don't expect the busy gunsmith to take care of you the week before hunting season opens.

There are many ways in which we can prepare for the big month, or months if you are lucky enough to expand your geographical activities. All of them are precautionary and assure better sport.

DUCKS PLENTIFUL

If the ducks were plentiful in 1954, they should be equally so this season, according to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and Ducks Unlimited which report that the waterfowl breeding season this year was as productive or more so than last year.

And the hunters also are expected to be equally as plentiful. Last year 50,000 sportsmen bought the federal migratory bird hunting stamp for use in Pennsylvania. The season opens for ducks, geese, coot, and brant on October 10, and the flight south to warmer climes already has started, according to game officials.

NEW TERRITORY

The state is opening to hunting 45,191 acres of undeveloped land in nine state parks this fall, which is an increase of 7,176 acres over last season. They will be posted with signs to indicate where hunting is allowed, and maps are available at the park offices or from the Department of Forests and Waters, Division of Recreation, Harrisburg. Hunters are asked to be especially careful in these areas because of the variety of family uses to which they are put.

The only area which probably would be of interest to Warren county hunters is located in Cook Forest, located in Forest, Jefferson, and Clarion counties.

ARCHERS' DEER SEASON
(Game Commission Release)

Bow and arrow hunters who will try for a buck in the Pennsylvania archers' deer season, October 10 to 22, probably will number 17,000 to 18,000. The prediction is based on the steady increase in the arrow shooters' numbers since 1951, the first year they enjoyed a separate deer season in Pennsylvania.

In 1954 persons who purchased a license for the special bow and arrow season numbered 14,769. In 1953 the number was 10,691. Fifty-five legal bucks were taken in 1954 and 84 in 1953, during the two-week seasons.

The bow hunters are very pleased over a new law affecting their sport. In force this year it provides that when there is an open season in October for hunting any game exclusively with bow and arrow such game may be hunted and killed between 6 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. The earlier morning and later evening hours will increase the archers' opportunities to score.

In this 1955 season, male deer only may be taken. A legal buck will have two or more points to one antler or it may carry an antler three or more inches long without points, measuring from the top of the skull as the deer is in life.

Each bow hunter, without exception, is required to own and wear a 1955 hunting license and a special archery license while in quest of a deer during the bow and arrow season. The special license, costing $2, must be purchased from the Department of Revenue, Harrisburg.

The Game Law lists these restrictions on equipment to be used in the special archery season: "It shall be unlawful to hunt for, kill or attempt to kill any deer . . . with any weapon other than a bow and arrow, or with any bow other than a long bow controlled without the aid of mechanical means, or with any arrow with any explosive in the head or shaft." The crossbow is outlawed.

WARREN COUNTY WINNER. Miss Shirley Littlefield, 20, driver, and her father, Joe, navigator, both of Starbrick, kept some of the honors of the Red Leaf Rally in Warren County by coping second place. In the accompanying picture, the thrilled young lady and her father-companion are shown in the Triumph TR-2 with which they won the runner-up position.

SIXTY-THREE PRIZES AND TROPHIES were presented to winners of the Sports Car Red Leaf Rally at a wind-up dinner which was held in the Marconi Outing Club late Sunday afternoon. Edward C. Shea, of Jamestown, N. Y., president of the local Sports Car Club, served as emcee and introduced the program.

THE BILLS HAVE IT! Bill Miller and Bill Roberts (left and right), of Westfield, N. Y., driver and navigator, respectively, were the best in the field on Sunday afternoon. Sid Blackman introduced the winners and presented the trophies and gifts. The men were successful in a Triumph TR-2.

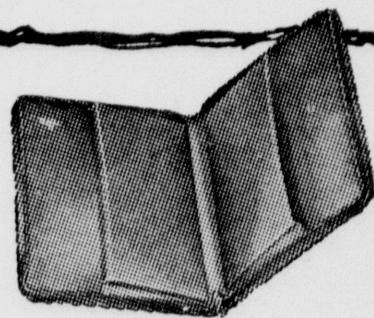

LAKEWOOD, OHIO, LADIES TAKE FIRST. Margie Hyer, driver, and June Deegan, navigator, of Lakewood, Ohio, won first honors in the ladies division of the Red Leaf Rally of sports cars which was held Sunday in Warren. Bill Adams, of Sugar Grove, presented the trophies to the happy pair. The girls entered an Austin-Healey. The ladies excelled in "loving care", too, as Adele Culbertson, of Fairmont City, Pa., was awarded the Outstanding Car designation for her 1948 MG TC. The judges reported the car immaculate on the outside and under the hood.

READY TO GO. A total of 201 entries, of which 188 were competing for the coveted awards, left Wilder Field at thirty second intervals beginning at noon EST on Sunday. Sid Blackman acted as starter and was assisted by Ralph H. Cooke, of Westfield, N. Y., and Harry A. Logan, Jr., of Warren. The entry list made the Warren affair the biggest of its kind in the United States.

LAST MINUTE INSTRUCTIONS were announced to the eager drivers over a public address system just a few minutes before blast-off time. Careful timing, obedience to instructions, and watching for check-out points were the essentials which contributed toward victory. Officials were posted at Brokenstraw Airport, Sugar Grove, Russell, Scandia, Cobham Park Rd., and Rogertown.

If you're holding Savings Bonds
you bought in 1945,
read this important news

How you can get an 80% return on your investment

DID YOU KNOW that your U. S. Savings Bonds will go on earning money for you—even after they've reached their maturity date?

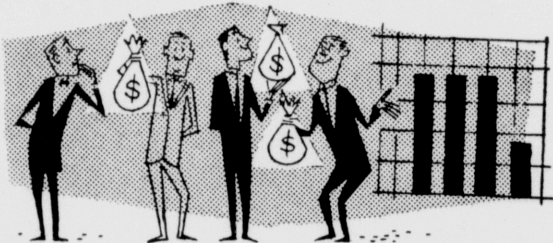

Did you know that you can get back as much as $1.80 for each dollar you invested in those Bonds—just by holding on to them?

Under the present Bond law the maturity period of Series E Savings Bonds has been extended a full 10 years. There's nothing to sign—no visit to the bank required. You just hold on to your Bonds and let them go right on earning extra money for you.

With this extended interest period, your Bonds can now earn up to 80% more than you originally paid. For example, if you invested $37.50 in a Bond in 1945, it's worth $50.00 today. But if you hold it for 10 years more, it will be worth $67.34—giving you a net return of $29.84.

It's easy to see why 3 out of 4 Bond owners are keeping their matured Bonds—and why so many Americans are investing in more through the Payroll Savings Plan. This is the plan that does your saving for you. You just sign up at the pay office where you work and tell the people there what you want to save each payday. They'll put that amount aside for you—before you get your check. When enough accumulates, they'll buy a Bond in your name and turn it over to you.

For your future—and the future of America—hold on to the maturing Bonds you have. And invest in more through the convenient Payroll Savings Plan.

A REMINDER TO OWNERS OF MATURING SERIES F AND G SAVINGS BONDS

Unlike Series E Bonds, which earn interest even after maturity, F and G Bonds do not. If your F and G Bonds have matured, have them redeemed—and, while you're at the bank, why not reinvest the proceeds in United States Series E or H Bonds? There's no finer, safer investment—and both yield the same liberal return.

Want your interest paid as current income? Invest in 3% Series H.

United States Government Series H Bonds are new current income Bonds in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and one month's notice. Mature in 9 years, 8 months and pay an average of 3% per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semi-annually by Treasury check. United States Series H Bonds may be purchased through any bank. Annual limit: $20,000.

Your money and your bank

Based on "Your Bank,"
by Dr. George L. Leffler,
Professor of Finance, The Pennsylvania State University

We all know that a bank keeps relatively little money in "vault cash"—the money they give us when we cash a check. What does the bank do with the rest? Of course, a lot of it is out on loans and some is held in reserves. An important amount, however, is invested so as to earn a reasonable income. Banks' investments are regulated by Federal and State laws and may generally be made only in high quality bonds and short-term obligations. Speculative securities are excluded.

Banks use six standards of judgment in selecting their investments. First, there must be safety of capital, that is, there must be the very minimum risk of loss; second, there must be stability of income, it must be steady, not high one year and low the next. The investment must also provide a satisfactory yield, in proportion to the capital invested. Fourth, the investment must be liquid, meaning that it can be sold readily and at a fair price whenever necessary. Banks' investments must have well-distributed maturities, which is to say that the principal must be repayable at regular intervals, neither too much nor too little at a time. Finally, bank investments must be well diversified, that is, all the "eggs" must not be in one basket.

In following these principles, most banks today put about 82 per cent of their investment funds into United States government bonds and short-term obligations, and about 12 per cent in the obligations of State governments and of other political subdivisions (usually municipal bonds). The remaining 6 per cent is placed in other securities—generally very high grade corporation bonds, carefully selected from the country's strongest industries, public utilities and railroads.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF SERVICE OBSERVED. The dining room of Trinity Memorial church, Warren, was filled to overflowing last evening with members and friends who attended a testimonial dinner in honor of J. H. Alexander who has completed fifty years service on the vestry. The Rev. Beecher Rutledge presented Mr.

Alexander with a beautifully inscribed prayer book as a memento of the "golden" event. In his response, the honored one reminisced of early church happenings.

William E. Rice served as toastmaster and introduced a program which consisted of selections by the junior choir, group singing, and numbers by the Chord Cadets, Warren's famous barbershop quartet. The Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, bishop of the Episcopal Erie diocese, delivered an inspiring address. A factual and fascinating "History of Trinity Memorial Church", authored by the honored guest, was distributed to the congregation.

In Brief

THE GUIFFRE MARKET ROBBERY was solved with the apprehension by state police of Carl R. Sherman, 23, of Cambridge Springs, and Paul Schlusser, 18, who resides near Carlisle, Pa. Warren chief Mike Evan was informed in a telephone call from Sgt. Richardson, of the Carlisle barracks, that the two men, arrested on a gun larceny charge, had admitted during questioning that they had performed the Warren robbery a couple of weeks ago. The stolen guns had been used to threaten the fruit market proprietor. Since the Warren warrants, issued by District Attorney Kornreich, for armed robbery are of a more serious nature than the larceny charge of the Cumberland County officials, the men will be released for prosecution by Warren County court after arraignment in Carlisle.

The men stated that after leaving the scene of the robbery they traveled a few blocks east on Pennsylvania ave. and then doubled back via Madison ave. They spent a few days in the Union City area and then returned to Carlisle where they were picked up as larceny suspects, caught with the stolen guns, and uttered their confessions. They advised that the get-away car was a 1949 Ford with orange bottom and green top.

Mrs. Luella Mallory, of Warren, is the secretary and Mrs. Agnes Scott, of Sugar Grove, will serve as treasurer. Mrs. Mae Minser, bible club missionary for Warren Co., from Frewsburg, led in devotions.

THE SANITY COMMISSION FINDINGS in the Norman W. Moon murder case have been ordered reviewed by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court in a ruling handed down on Monday. The opinion was written by Justice Thomas McKen Chidsey and stated that the commission's findings and recommendations must be re-examined and the "evidence reconsidered by the court in the light of the statutory definition of mental illness."

Moon was convicted for the slaying of Judge Allison D. Wade in the Warren County courtroom in January, 1954, and the jury set the penalty as death in the electric chair. Moon has never been formally sentenced pending results of various appeals.

The sanity commission, consisting of Dr. Robert Israel, Dr. William S. Walters and Attorney R. Pierson Eaton, examined the defendant and found him to be insane. Judge Alexander C. Flick, however, ruled that Moon was "legally sane", but again postponed sentencing due to resulting appeals, including the one on which the State Supreme Court has just ruled.

CANCER PATIENT SUPPLIES, under the supervision of Martha Lupold, included, besides sickroom equipment, the distribution of more than six hundred surgical dressings. These materials were replenished by 332 dressings from Diamond Grange No. 2027, more than 750 dressings from the Business and Professional Women, and 36 disposable pads from the Catholic Daughters of America.

Dr. Hugh R. Robertson, new president of the Society, appointed the following committee chairmen: Dr. William Walters, service; Dr. John E. Thompson, education; A. L. Rasmussen, finance; Robert O. Wilder, special projects; John Haggerty, and Mrs. George Templeton, Jr., campaign. The resignation of Dr. Robert Donaldson as chairman of education was accepted with regrets. Dr. Robertson, Mrs. Templeton, and Mina Rieder were elected as delegates to the 11th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania division of the American Cancer Society which is to be held October 28-30 at the Pocono Manor Inn, Pocono Manor, Pa.

The group which includes many from Warren County won third place in a recent membership campaign and was awarded a 175 lb. buck deer. By supplying an additional $55 the sportsmen can trade the deer for the elk. The North Central Division received a 750 lb. elk for first place and they have invited all interested sportsmen to a bar-b-que at St. Marys on Sunday afternoon, October 9. The South Central Division took second and received a 650 lb. elk.

IF YOU WANT A JOB DONE, do it yourself -- seems to be the credo of the Warren Jaycees. Along with their efforts to raise $4,800 for tennis courts and ice skating on Beaty Field, the boys are actually "digging in" themselves to cut down on the costs of labor.

On Tuesday evening, temporary lights were installed and approximately twenty-five bent their backs on some of the rough work. In this picture you can recognize many of the faithful who enter enthusiastically into every worthwhile project. Your contribution is needed now to make the effort successful!

Two boys' groups of the YMCA, the Vikings and Kingsmen, aided the Jaycees in the physical contributions. The boys are anxious to be of service to the community and welcome suggestions by local citizens as to where their talents may be of greatest value.

BENCHED . . . It almost seemed like thirty years ago to these members of the 1925 Warren high school team, Saturday, when they were the guests of the Warren Sports Boosters at the annual homecoming game. The difference was that they are unaccustomed to spending their time on the sidelines. As they watched the 1955 team drub Oil City, 32 to 14, they may have been thinking of their meeting with the same school, which they won, 37 to 7.

Area Sports

GAMES THIS WEEK

Youngsville at Sheffield for the big one, 1:30, Saturday.

Northern Area at Brocton, Saturday.

Warren at Meadville, Friday.

POWER DOES IT

Power may be seen on all sides in Warren county this season. Every scholastic football team seems to be loaded with it. This week Warren beat Oil City, 32 to 14, Northern Area took Silver Creek, 39 to 2, Sheffield trounced Smethport, 42 to 0, and Youngsville spanked Edinboro, 34 to 7.

THE BREAKS

There is no doubting that the Dragons have a strong team this year, but the 32 to 14 victory over Oil City in the annual homecoming game was not indicative of a lop-sided game. Warren got the breaks, made the most of them, and looked good on paper.

Warren played a loose, careless looking game. Up to this time the potential of the Dragon team never has been evident. The team does not seem to play as a fired up unit. It goes just long enough to get a play away and a score, then seems to loaf defensively. It will give ground for down after down, then stiffen and hold. Some day this kind of play may prove costly.

Warren got the ball away from Oil City on a fumble early in the game and Carl Greco danced 37 yards for a score on the first play. Don Mohney plunged a yard for one in the second quarter and Jack Shattuck pounded 26 for another. Oil City worked a pass from Harrington to Gonzales for a counter.

In the third period Shaffer blocked an Oiler punt and booted to the goal line where he fell on it for a score. Dave Swanson plunged a yard for another and that ended Warren's scoring. In the same quarter Harrington went through center for an Oiler score. Mohney kicked the two extra points.

IN THE COUNTY

Rowland got two, Olson two, and Knapp two touchdowns to give Northern Area a league victory over Silver Creek. There is little doubt that the Area boys will be the big threat in the Northwest Conference. They are favored to blast Brocton this Saturday.

Sheffield prepared for Smethport by sending Hoden over twice and Sadler, Mihalko, and Burlingame into the end zone one time each for six-pointers, and a 42 avalanche over Smethport which got nothing. Sheffield now plays host to Youngsville in their traditional. Comparative scores say the Eagles have a two-touchdown edge, but this could be one for the records.

Youngsville tuned up for its Sheffield trip by blasting Edinboro, 34 to 7, with scoring by Joe Kulbacki, Dinny, Brennamen, and Sherwood. The Eagles go to Sheffield favored because they tied Northern Area which beat Sheffield, 12 to 0.

Candidates Should Run In Primaries

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON, -- Adlai Stevenson will announce in November that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. He is, however, still wrestling with the next question reporters will put to him. It is:

Will you enter the Presidential preference primaries in the States?

He has been told by his supporters within the states themselves that he must say yes. But some of his national advisors are counseling him to hold back arguing that Senator Kefauver or some other favorite son might knock him off before he gets to Chicago.

It is not a decision that can long be avoided. Senator Kefauver will arrive in Seattle next week from his long journey through Europe, including Russia, and Asia. He will be met by friends who will start planning with him a Kefauver campaign in which the primaries are a vital element.

The Stevenson people in the states are aware that they are going to be faced with a Kefauver challenge on the home grounds. They are asking their man how he can possibly justify ducking it.

It is a real quandary for Stevenson who has no public office at his back, no large treasury or fortune to dip into and who is going to have to start an organization from scratch.

To the professional politicians the Presidential primaries are frankly a nuisance. They are expensive to enter and full of uncharted, unknowable pitfalls. There is no assurance that glorious primary victories will influence a national convention; sometimes they have and sometimes they haven't.

But they have great appeal in the Republic. It seems only fair that men who want to be President should be willing to put their fate to small tests before they ask for the big prize. There is a tendency these days to insist that nation-wide telecasts are the answer to all politics but Americans still like to shake the hand that may some day shake the hand of world's leaders.

For the candidate personally they are the hardest work he will ever do. Once he achieves the national ticket, the money starts coming in and much can be done for him. In the proving ground of the primary, he is much alone, and greatly dependent on himself.

One thing is certain. Once in a primary, the aspiring politician had better make sure he wins. It may not help him -- but it will hurt him if he loses. This is particularly true of Stevenson at this point for his standing has not been tested by actual count for three years.

The primaries are again necessary to Senator Kefauver because so few organization politicians have taken his side. His supporters are convinced that he is as popular with the rank and file of Democrats as he proved to be in 1953.

Governor Harriman has an out when it comes to the primaries. He is still saying he is for Stevenson and he can hold back on this account. There is, of course, the risk that Stevenson might do surprisingly well.

Many of his supporters believe he would. They would not expect it to be easy. They rather grimly suggest that he would have to kiss every baby in New Hampshire where the lead-off primary takes place March 13. But, they add, New Hampshire is a small state and once he carried it, he would be off to a flying start, never to be headed.

'Big' Shows Due Back on Channel 4

TWO of CBS Television's "colossals" are scheduled to make a seasonal return to WBEN-TV in a lineup of programs more exciting and elaborate than ever before, many of which will be televised in full color. The hour-long song and dance series, Shower of Stars, will be back in view on Channel 4 beginning Thursday evening, Oct. 6, at 8:30 o'clock. Come Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9, at 5:30 o'clock the Peabody Award-winning series, Omnibus, will launch its fourth year of broadcasting.

The every-fourth-week Shower of Stars extravaganza, from CBS Television's Color City in Hollywood, will open the season Oct. 6 at 8:30 PM in the comedy-hit "Time Out for Ginger," starring Jack Benny, with Gary Crosby, Ronnie Burns and Janet Parker playing a trio of high school students. Edward Everett Horton and Larry Keating will co-star.

Omnibus is set to return Oct. 9 at 5:30 PM on WBEN-TV. (Due to the time element of football games in October, Channel 4 will telecast 60 minutes of the 90-minute Omnibus show for the remaining three Sundays in October, then will carry the full program.)

Upcoming plans for the season include the "Omnibus World Fair," a series that will take viewers all over the world to examine the present state of civilization; Eartha Kitt in Oscar Wilde's play "Salome;" and a three-part story on our living Constitution.

TENNIS NEEDS A SHOT

We are pleased to see the Jaycees finishing the tennis courts on Beaty field in Warren. It is a good sport, requiring condition and fast thinking for championship play, and is good exercise no matter how versatile you may be. If the courts on Beaty field prove as popular as those at the Warren State hospital, there may be a need for neighborhood courts on the playgrounds located at the extreme ends of Warren, such as Lacy, West Side, and some day a playground in the upper Conewango ave. section, though where we can not imagine.

Tennis needs promotion, as can be seen in our current national effort to stay abreast of the best in the world. Australia has been keeping the Davis cup in consistent fashion, losing it to us last year for the first time in many, then taking it back this summer.

More than one reason can be found to explain this, but the main one is that we are not producing tennis players like we are golfers, swimmers, and other perfectionists. When we do develop a good tennis player he is lost to the pros and we are back to sub-standard representation.

Golf has an active association which has promoted the game. The pros also have an association and the result is much activity and attendant publicity. Bowling has enjoyed similar attention, and the natural popularity of swimming and its expanding facilities are keeping it in the competitive swim.

We can remember when Warren had two courts on the South Side, four or five on the East Side, and others spotted about the community. We even had a tennis league, with doubles teams representing the various courts. And annually there was a Warren county tennis championship tournament.

When the men who built and maintained these courts decided they lacked the energy to puff about after a bouncing ball, the grass popped up and no youngsters had been developed to take over. Dependent on groups which no longer played the game, naturally they fell apart.

That is why we are pleased to see public courts developed. These will be maintained and playground supervisors will see that they are actively used.

One of the difficult aspects of tennis is the effect weather has on the facilities. Grass or clay courts cannot be used after it rains, and the young of heart often lack the patience to wait for drainage to make ready a place to play. They will turn to something else.

Hard surfaced courts do not provide the best tennis, but they always are available, and the game which is shortened in this climate by spring dampness and fall rains, is lengthened in playing hours on the black top. This makes it possible to start playing whenever the temperature is right and to continue until the snow flies.

Some areas have tennis and golf teams in their high schools. Warren has been denied these advantages. We believe this is a situation which should be remedied, due to the fact that participation sports such as these will be enjoyed in future years. The so-called major sports are for only a chosen few and even they will be unable to play them after they leave school.

Warren, of course, also needs a public golf course, which could be teamed up with a picnic area and related facilities for family fun. If this is not provided, perhaps the reigning powers of the country club could be convinced that it would be to everyone's advantage to open that course to public play one or two nights a week after five o'clock. This would be profitable to the club and a break for the community.

AND ICE SKATING

The provision of ice skating for the public in Warren has been tried many times, with limited success. We are enjoying a bit of satisfaction with the construction of a curbing about the new courts on Beaty which will make it possible to attempt skating in seasonable weather.

There has been some sweating and freezing done to provide skating in the past. We have seen water sprayed on several areas, only to be lost in the porous ground the first mild day. And we have seen water sprayed on the former Beaty court with fair success. Here the water could be contained and one winter the area was much used, thanks to some very willing workers among the youngsters of that period.

It is no picnic to stand with a water spray in your hands throughout the night, and it is less of a picnic to do it for several nights. And the discouragement that results when all of this work disappears on an ordinarily warm day is difficult to appreciate unless you have frozen through it on sub zero evenings.

The school board once approved our proposal to plug the drains on Beaty court, fix the faucets, and build a curb at the open end. The faucets were fixed and the drains plugged, but the curb never was built. We never enjoyed the benefit of learning what would have happened if a pond could have been created there. This would have told us much which would be useful this winter when the community will try a similar experiment on the new Beaty courts.

We do know that the hard surface will pick up an amazing amount of heat and will melt the ice on ordinary winter days. A bit of sand or some type of covering will resist this absorption and may keep the ice intact. There is much to be learned from others who have tried before and from other communities which are enjoying skating today. It promises to be an interesting winter.

Things to Come

A NEW FEATURE . . . has been added to the YWCA fall schedule. A "Ladies' Day Out" has been planned for six consecutive Thursdays from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., beginning October 13. A choice of four activities will be offered during these morning sessions. They include swimming, bridge, festive cooking, and ceramics. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 with each lady bringing her own lunch, and coffee will be provided. There will be a nursery during the entire morning for children from the ages of two to six years.

From 12:15 to 1 a special program feature will be built around the theme, "Home Decorations".

This is an entirely new project and it is hoped that many new as well as old members will take advantage of this social and instructive opportunity. Fill out the registration blank which will be found in this issue of the Observer and mail it to the YW as soon as possible. All registrations must be in by October 10.

SKATERS ARE INVITED . . . to the Skating Party at the Youngsville rink sponsored by the Preschool Mothers of Youngsville on October 8 at 10:30 p. m. Adults 16 or over may purchase tickets from any member of the club or at the E. J. Abraham store in Youngsville. If any tickets are left over, they will be sold at the door.

THE JAYCEE CONCERT SERIES will open with the piano duo of Ferrante and Teicher on Monday, October 10, at Beaty auditorium. Ferrante and Teicher, one of the most widely traveled two-piano teams in the world, have a particular blend of classical and popular music which appeals to a wide variety of people.

The program will consist of numbers by Mozart, Brahms, Rachmaninoff, Liszt and other well-known composers. Also an American Fantasy (When Johnny Comes Marching Home) by Ferrante and Teicher.

Although single tickets are not sold for this series, there are still season tickets available which may be obtained by writing to the Jaycees at P. O. Box 147 or contacting George Templeton or Robert Geiger.

AT THE OPENING MEETING . . . of the Woman's Club 1955-56 season, announcement was made of the annual Dessert-Style Show-Card Party to be held at the Woman's club building on Market st., on Wednesday, October 19.

Miss Mildred H. Blair, president, outlined the highlights of the coming year. The theme will be "United in Diversity."

SYLVANIA WILL PRESENT . . . a program at the weekly Rotary meeting on Monday, October 10 at the YWCA. Marion Pettegrew is in charge.

A FULL SCHEDULE of activities is ahead for the Y-Teen department of the YWCA. Plans are presently being made for "John McCoan Day" to be held on Saturday, October 22. John, a 1955 graduate of Warren high school, was seriously injured in a swimming accident last summer and is now a patient at Mercy hospital in Pittsburgh. To earn money for John, the Y-Teens are planning to have a car wash, rake leaves, baby sit, have a downtown shoeshine stand, and hold a dance at the YW in the evening.

All Y-Teens are reminded that the YMCA pool is available to them every Tuesday evening from 7 until 8 o'clock. Miss Jean Pierce, head life guard, will teach diving techniques to those interested.

At 3 p. m. on Monday, October 10, there will be a meeting of all girls interested in playing on the Y-Teen basketball team. This will be a "try out" session with coach, Phyllis Putnam, in charge.

JUNIOR HIGH Y-TEENS . . are also planning big things for this year. The ninth graders' big project will be a Christmas formal called the "Snow Ball" for all Beaty Y-Teens.

The eighth grade girls' next meeting will be on Wednesday, October 12, at the "Y" and the next seventh grade meeting will be on Wednesday, October 19.

LANDSCAPE PAINTING . . will be the subject of Mr. Sigafos' fall art class which begins today at 1 o'clock. The class will meet at the Warren Public library each Thursday afternoon and then leave for a location.

THE CHRISTIAN LAYMAN'S CRUSADE will be held at the First Presbyterian church from October 6 through 9 inclusive. Evening services will begin at 7:30 p. m. Speakers include James E. Colville, New York City, George T. Willey, Baltimore, Md., and Harry Smith, of San Francisco, Calif.

The primary purpose of these meetings is to stimulate and encourage laymen in new ways of increasing service to Christ in their own church.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL P.T.A. . . presents Edwin Strawbridge Productions in "Toby Tyler" at Beaty auditorium on Tuesday, October 11, at 4 p. m. Adults and children are welcome. Single tickets are 60 cents, and season tickets are $1.

CHIEF CORNPLANTER COUNCIL of the Boy Scouts of America will be represented at the annual Region III Volunteer's Conference which will be held in Pittsburgh on October 7 and 8. Harry Stuhldreher, public relations executive with U. S. Steel, will be one of the main speakers at the conference.

A DESSERT AND CARD PARTY for the benefit of the Jaycee tennis court-ice rink fund will be sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary on Wednesday, October 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the YWCA. Following dessert, a fur fashion show will be presented by Fred Sadramoso of the Warren Furs. A four-skin Kolinsky neckpiece has been donated by Warren Furs as a special prize to be given away. Tickets may be purchased from any Auxiliary member by phoning Eleanor Lesser at 2920.

TWO TEAMS have already been formed to participate in the YWCA basketball league for girls out of high school through 30. An organization meeting will be held on Thursday, October 6, at 7:30 in the "Y" and it is hoped that all girls interested will attend so that more teams may be formed.

"Buy Dyke's

BUYERS' CORNER

NOT DAIRY PRODUCT

Armour and Company has been charged by the Federal Trade Commission with suggesting in advertising that its margarine, Cloverbloom 99, is a dairy product. The FTC charges that the company used such statements as "fresh-churned", "churned a full hour", and others which have become firmly associated with dairy products in the minds of the purchasing public.

TOO BIG A PROMISE

Raymond Arnold, of Maplewood, N. J., who does business as the United Mirror Laboratories Research Division of Make-ur-Own Mirror Company, has been ordered to stop advertising that those who use his equipment will become professional mirror makers in fifteen minutes. (The fact that there are people who will swallow a line like that must be very discouraging to those who must enforce the law.)

NO ENGRAVING

Regency Thermographers have agreed to stop representing that their printing is engraved. Actually it is thermography, which is a raised letter without an impression in the back of the sheet. Though it is just as good from the stand-point of appearance, it can not be advertised as engraving.

MUST TELL ALL

The Nestle Company has been told to reveal the actual contents of its Nestea Instant Tea. Instead of being a perfect blend of orange pekoe and pekoe teas as advertised, it is composed of equal parts of soluble tea and carbohydrates.

NOT A REVIGORATOR

Edanol is not a vitamin product of special benefit for men over forty or a restorative of strength and vigor. Or so says the FTC which has told the makers to stop making statements that infer as much.

WATCH THOSE SCARVES

Complaints have been filed against four New York firms which have imported and sold highly inflammable Japanese scarves. The firms named are: Arkwright Accessories, Inc., Baar and Beards, Inc., Brochers Trading Corp., and Virchand Panachand and Company. Baar and Beards also is alleged to have furnished false guarantees that its scarves had undergone tests under the Flammable Fabrics Act.

NOT SO FANCY

Marche Nuptiale perfume is not a $25 product manufactured from essence imported from France. It is worth $3 or less and is manufactured in Newark from essence bought in the United States and containing a small fraction of imported ingredients. Old Empre Inc. is the defendant.

NOT A CURE

Vertasol will not cure arthritis, rheumatism, and neuritis, but at the best will afford only relief from minor pains and fever. So says the FTC in an action against the Sumlar Company of Brooklyn.

LOST YOUTH

Pep-Ti-Kon will not bring back your lost youth, nor will it provide essential minerals. The FTC is charging The Berjon Company with false claims in the sale of this product.

MORE ARTHRITIS UNTRUTH

ViViBx (Formula N. 56DX) sounds formidable but when it comes to curing arthritis and rheumatic disorders it will do no more than afford temporary relief from minor aches and pains. The International Pharmaceutical Co. has agreed to change its advertising to fit the facts. If you have some on the shelf you can act accordingly.

Wanted..... More Bull

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON. -- President Eisenhower's illness had one reaction that directed our attention to a familiar institution and its sometimes strange psychology.

This is the New York stock market. Now and again it reverts to attitudes prevalent among the plush set over half a century ago. Back to the time, for instance, when the lords of finance, cooperating with Mark Hanna, the Ohio political boss, drove about in a fancy carriage and four knocking on the doors of Wall Street for contributions for the campaign of William McKinley against William Jennings Bryan for the Presidency.

The theory was that if Mr. Bryan and the Democrats should win that would practically be the end of the world, at least the small world in which they flourished and which they often mistook for the whole world.

And so on receipt of the news from Denver, the stock market immediately took a nose dive. The Administration contends there is no reason for such a tumble, though some economists say some sort of adjustment was due. We are left then with the explanation that Wall Street, itself, seems to prefer. This is that the upset was caused by the fear that, with President Eisenhower out as a candidate, the Democrats would come back into power.

This Wall Street reaction wasn't very welcome to the Republican party, because it only dramatized the private view of Republican leaders that without the President their hopes next year are very slim.

What was also revealed that is also discouraging is that Wall Street still seems insulated, exists in an ivory tower of its own, talks mostly to itself, and seems to lack understanding of how other folks in the outside world think.

We have seen this from time to time here in recurrent Congressional investigations, going back to that of a quarter of a century ago into the 1929 stock market crash. The big moguls of Wall Street and the stock market and investment banking followed one another day after day before the Senate Banking Committee. They seemed to resent any intrusion into their private little world with its magic formulae and symbols and some of them talked as if they were endowed with special privileges in handling other people's money.

That, of course, was all changed with passage of laws to regulate the exchanges and security markets and investment bankers in the public interest, and the establishment of the Securities and Exchange Commission to protect the public.

Of late, however, there seems to be a return of the old attitude that the stock exchange is rather more important than it is. It still is regarded, it is true, as a sort of weather vane of economic conditions in business and financial circles, though it is not watched so closely by millions and millions of persons in the country. Thus its warnings and guidance about politics are not likely to be taken as gospel. Millions who own no "shares" react politically on the basis of other considerations.

If you appreciate the attitude of the speculative fraternity, it is easy to understand how any disruption of the status quo in government disturbs them. Things have been mighty nice. Big business and industry have a more potent voice in government than they have had in a long time. Even the Securities and Exchange Commission, which is supposed to watch and regulate the exchanges and investment business, is now effectively "packed" with representatives of the very interests it is supposed to regulate. It was shown in an analysis by Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) that all five SEC members are either bankers or lawyers for investment bankers.

This overbalance of government on the side of big business naturally would be readjusted a little more on the side of the general public interest if the Democrats should come back. That is what the insiders and professionals are afraid of, not that a change in government would affect the general prosperity of the country.

It is true, however, that if the general prosperity of the people were adversely affected between now and the election, the Republican party would be hurt, and tumbles in the stock market contribute to a bad psychology. In fact, Republicans already have organized their 1956 campaign around the "peace and prosperity" theme, and, with the President out, that must become their chief reliance.

Bulls are better trademarks than bears.

What's in a barrel of crude oil? Well, scientists say there are actually hundreds of thousands of chemical compounds. But these are only the building blocks for finished petroleum products which are numbered by the hundreds.. When crude oil is refined these hundreds of thousands of compounds are classified, regrouped, purified and also chemically changed into the products we know in everyday life. The United Refining Company, at its refinery in Warren, makes nearly all of these petroleum products; gasoline, kerosene, furnace oil, diesel fuel oil, distillate and residual fuels, asphalts, waxes, petroleum and lubricating oils of many descriptions.. United also makes a long list of highly refined specialties for use in the manufacture of chemicals, insecticides, cosmetics, and medicines. All told, there are many dozens of products with hundreds of end uses, and in each one a common ingredient—quality. Of course, quality must start with the crude oil, but it must also be carefully refined into the finished petroleum products. For over fifty years, the name UNITED REFINING COMPANY has stood for quality, throughout the world. That's why you can be sure when you use Keystone Powerfuel Gasoline, or any other United product, it is always the finest money can buy.

POOR SHOW

That was the first and just conceivably the last World Series to be televised in color. Something has got to be done about sports events in color. I have now seen a fight, a tennis match and a World Series in color and none of them has been nearly as effective as plain old black and white.

In some of the Series games, the catcher and batter - two fairly important people - seem to be standing in pools of blackness. Only by switching to a closeup of the hitter could you see him at all. It seems strange that you get such expert camera work on any ball game all year long; then comes the World Series, the biggest sports event we have, and the camera work gets amateurish. The boys kept missing plays that are routine to the regular crews the rest of the season. Nothing seemed as clear and as sharp as in black and white and there were occasional inexcusable bursts of just nothing at all. Something has got to be done. Maybe we should just go back to black and white and forget the whole thing. ***

A little girl who was allowed to stay up late to see NBC's color spectacular of "Heidi" fidgeted through an hour of it and then said: "Daddy, there's something wrong. I don't know what it is."

Well, there were quite a lot of things wrong with that show, but I think I know what the little girl had in mind. Jeannie Carson, the English girl, who played Heidi, simply isn't a little girl; she doesn't look like a little girl and never should have been cast in the part. If you haven't got a little girl, then you haven't got Heidi, one of the great classics of everyone's youth.

If Max Liebman is going to tackle the classics, he's got to do better than this. Heidi is a story a lot of us cherish; it is pure unadorned schmaltz and, when you do schmaltz, you have to believe in it; you have to start out with tears in your eyes. The NBC production, it seemed to me, was trying to put a veneer of sophistication on what is essentially a very simple-hearted story and it landed flat on its face.

It's a shame, too, because no story lends itself to color television much better than this one. The color was lovely. But very little else was.

"An audience," said Audrey Meadows, a very important part of the Jackie Gleason show, "can change your timing from what it was at rehearsal. Sometimes you find that a joke needs a beat after a straight line. Some jokes don't take that beat. It's something you feel."

It is precisely for that reason that I think Jackie Gleason was out of his wits to switch from live to filmed television. "The Honey-mooners" is one of the best written and acted shows on television. But it's the kind of comedy that needs an audience and needs live production. What it doesn't need is film editing, an art that adds an awful lot to some shows and takes a lot away from others.

In front of an audience, Gleason and Meadows knew exactly how long to take just eyeing one another belligerently before breaking the tension. There was a tremendous feeling of participation between the cast and the audience that communicated itself to the home viewers. It's gone. It doesn't seem like the same show without it.

Warren Borough Board Holds October Meeting

Several items of importance were discussed and decisions reached at the October meeting of the Warren borough school board on Monday evening. Authorization was granted for the petty cash reserve to be increased $50. Eighteen psychologist examinations were authorized as needed during the coming school term. The president and treasurer were instructed to sign the proper forms for the securities purchased with revenue received from the Elizabeth Beaty estate.

Frank Johnson was granted permission to attend the Speech Association conference in Philadelphia, October 7-8. David Olson, principal at Jefferson and president of the PTA Community Council, will attend the state convention at Buck Hill Falls between October 31 and November 2.

The recommendations of the building and grounds committee were accepted which will result in a new worm for the Jefferson stoker and a hot water heater for Lacy building. Home Street Parents' Club received permission to use the building for a pie social on October 21 and Seneca PTA was granted use of the South Side building for an ice cream social on October 12.

The tuition rate was approved at $22.60 which is less than the costs of $23.14 for last year. The kindergarten rate was set at $12.50.

The following payments were authorized: Substitutes salaries - $696; janitors' overtime - $53.25; orders - $272.67; cafeteria supplies - $3,450.67, cafeteria services - $1,274.22, rental of Jefferson building - $53,000, and to the jointure for Beaty and high school - $29,173.96.

A home owner here in Warren borrowed about $1,000 from us in 1950 with three years to repay. The loan was to repair his front porch and paint the house.

Early this spring his heating system failed, and both he and his tenants were without heat. A telephone call, Warren 16, was all that was needed to bring him a quick check to cover the rush job that saved the house from freezing up.

We make low cost loans for repairs and modernization, repayable in 36 convenient monthly payments.

It pays to establish credit with the Warren National Bank.
